World Cup race back in Minden

World Cup racing will return to the Minden Wild Water Preserve again this summer and will be the one last shot at impressing the International Olympic Committee with the facilities.

"This will be the last chance to show the world what we can do," Race Committee Chairman Robert Grose told Anson, Hindon and Minden Council last Thursday. It is not likely that Minden will host a World Cup race again in 1990, so this will be the last chance to show off the Preserve to the committee that will choose the site for the 1996 Olympics next year, said Grose.

The city of Toronto is bidding for the honour of hosting the 1996 Games and if it is successful, the Minden Preserve will be the site of the white water canoe and kayak events. In 1992, Canoe slalom will be included in the canoeing program at the Olympic Games in Barcelona.

"Every time I come before this council I'm crucified or hoorayed, depending on how many parking tickets were issued and how many people came out."

1990 is when the bid for Toronto is either accepted or rejected for 1996," Grose said. "If we put a show on for the world and get Toronto's people here, then they can show off the facility in their bid."

The first World Cup circuit was brought to life last summer, with the Minden race being one of seven. "Based on the success of last year's World Cup event, Canada has been selected to host one of the seven events again this year," Grose told council. More than 100 of the world's best paddlers will be competing again in Minden, which means more good exposure to everyone involved in the sport.

Major television coverage of the World Cup circuit is a strong possibility this year. Grose said negotiations with an international sponsor are almost complete and he should know this week if the television proposal will be accepted.

Grose was at the council meeting to inform members of what will be happening at the course this summer and to make sure the usual facilities will be in place. He was asking that the townships provide garbage cans in the park, four portable washrooms, a sign to be placed at the corner of Highway 35 and Horseshoe Lake Road and parking attendants.

"Every time I come before this council I'm crucified or hoorayed, depending on how many parking tickets were issued and how many people came out," Grose commented. On Thursday he was in for a bit of both.

Reeve Ray Moore promised full support. "We're going to be working with you, let me tell you," He said he is excited about this summer's World Cup as well as the future Olympic potential. "You're scaring the pants right off us for a two-day event," he said.

Deputy Reeve Bern Berry then began questioning him about parking. He said the municipality provided three men to police the parking situation last summer and asked if Grose had looked into the possibility of leasing a piece of property up the road to provide more parking. Grose said he had looked into that possibility in the past but had been turned down for various reasons. He said he will consider the option of arranging for parking space close to Minden and providing a shuttle bus to the rapids.

The high school drama club's presentation of Blind Dates poses some tough challenges to both the cast and the students involved in the construction of the set and props. Students are hard at work preparing for this March 3 and 4 performance and last week they had a chance to test out one of the props for the scene on a school bus.

Blind Dates: A slice of teenage life

"It's unbelievable how close to real life this is."

Don Grozelle, who is in charge of promotion for the HHSS Drama Club's production of Blind Dates says he is impressed by author Anna Fierstenberg's ability to recreate real life teenage situations. "I skimmed through the script," said Grozelle, "and looked at one passage and thought 'That's me.'"

Because the scenes so closely mimic real life, Blind Dates poses a tough challenge to the student actors, says Drama teacher Nancy Robichaud. "They're trying to recreate the illusion of reality." She says they quickly learned it is no easy task to play yourself.

Blind Dates is a series of loosely-bound scenes. The common thread is that each snippet is gleaned from the life of a typical teenager. The students re-enact scenes that could easily have been pulled from their own personal daily experiences at school and home.

Except for this, each of the 25 scenes is unconnected. Robichaud describes the scenes as "slices of teenage life." Each "slice" is a window to their feelings and experiences; Each unveils some of the mys-

Ministry cuts back its fire staff

Staffing at the Ministry of Natural Resources fire centre in Haliburton will be cut by six men and there will be more onus placed on municipal fire crews as a result of a province-wide move to improve the cost efficiency of the fire-fighting system.

The ministry is cutting back its staffing by 25 per cent province wide. In the Algonquin District, which includes Haliburton County, it is being cut by 46 per cent, or about 170 men.

Tom Russell, head of the Haliburton fire centre, says there will be nine firefighters this summer where there are normally 15. Instead of having three five-man crews there will be three three-man crews.

Russell will be meeting with the municipal fire chiefs over the next five or six weeks to explain how these changes will affect them. "We will have to rely more on municipalities than in the past. There's no doubt about that." As a result, the municipal fire crews may require more training and equipment related to forest fire suppression, he said.

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down forward, backward and diagonally.

They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun!

Snowmobiling injuries continue to mount

The number of snowmobile accidents in the area continued to climb last week as four people were injured in five accidents that were reported to the Minden OPP.

Two children were seriously injured when the snowmobile they were riding collided head on with a pick-up truck on Spar Lake Road in Lutterworth Township on Feb. 19. Stephen Chochrane, 10, of West Hill, and passenger Gary Morgan, 12, of Scarborough, were not wearing helmets at the time of the accident, police report. Both children were taken to Sick Children's Hospital in Toronto.

Earlier that same day, Stephen McCullough, 36, of Bradford was injured and taken to Haliburton Hospital when he was involved in a three-snowmobile crash in the Haliburton Forest and Wildlife Reserve. The other two drivers were not injured.

On Feb. 18 at 11:30 p.m. on Kawagama Lake, a snowmobile operated by Lisa French, 21, of Bracebridge, caught fire. French jumped from the sled, which continued in motion and crashed into the back of a snowmobile driven by Leonard Payne, 22, of Dorset. Neither driver was injured in the accident. French's snowmobile was destroyed by fire.

At 10:30 on Feb. 18 Curry Whittaker, 47, of Haliburton, was injured when his snowmobile went off a trail in the Forest and ran into a tree. Whittaker was taken to Haliburton Hospital.

On Feb. 16 in the Forest, Michael McIntosh, 31, of Brampton escaped injury when his snowmobile went off the trail and crashed into a tree.

tery behind teenage issues surrounding their love lives, problems at school and with parents, peer pressure and drugs.

Blind Dates is the sort of production that will help parents understand some of the difficulties their kids are facing. It will also help the kids to realize they are not alone in their problems. Some of the promotional material reads: "Parents, have you often wondered what goes on in your teenager's mind? Here's your chance to find out!"

Although there are only about 15 students who will appear on stage in this March 3 and 4 production, almost 100 students are involved in bringing Blind Dates to life. Each scene involves close to 30 kids when everything is taken into account, Robichaud says.

There are about 40 first-year arts students designing the sets with the help of another 20 building construction students. The script provides no details about the set, so there has been a great deal of brainstorming to come up with a versatile props and a backdrop.

Blind Dates will come to life on the stage of the HHSS auditorium at 8 p.m. on March 3 and 4. The admission charge is $2 for students and $4 for adults.

Lost lessons

The decision to locate the Highland Games in Haliburton's Glebe Park is a disappointment to those involved in Minden's bid to host them at the Fair Grounds. But what is even more disappointing is that Minden's Deputy Reeve did not learn his lesson from the ordeal.

The sound of Bern Berry's voice badgering Robert Grose last Thursday was as irritating as the screech of finger nails on a chalk board. Grose, chairman of the World Cup White Water Slalom race to be held in Minden this summer, came to council to deliver the exciting news about what he and his group are doing to draw world-wide attention to the Gull River white water course.

In turn, all Grose requested is that the municipality provide a few parking attendants, some garbage cans and portable washrooms—a small price to pay for the benefit of attracting thousands of people to the community for two days. However, he might as well have asked for the moon for the negative response he received from our acclaimed Deputy Reeve.

Part of the reason Minden's bid to host this summer's Highland Games was turned down was because of the lack of enthusiasm displayed by a majority of the members of council. Faced with complaints from the community, Berry blamed the media for creating the misconception that he was not interested in hosting this event. With time running out, he tried his best to show that he and the community were willing to support the Games. However, by that time it was too late to reverse the negative impression he helped create.

The dust has yet to settle from that commotion and Berry is hard at work fumbling another important event out of the community. The lesson that should have been learned from council's poor handling of its bid for the Games went right over Berry's head.

If some members of council are not interested in encouraging new attractions to come to Minden, they should at least enthusiastically back those which have found a home here and which add immeasurably to the tourism sector of our economy.

Walking with Ronnie and The Curser

When you move away from a place you've lived for a long time, interesting things happen to your head.

At first, it's kind of frightening. Your mind is crammed with knowledge that's not much good to you any more. For the first few months most of your waking thoughts and all of your dormant ones are about the old place. You remember the quickest route across town, where to get the best perogies, which stores are open on Sunday.

But gradually the memories fade. Your recall of the Old Home Town gets sort of blurry. One day you realize with a start that you can't remember some of the major streets, or the name of town's hockey team.

It's been nearly five years now since I left Thunder Bay, and my once-crystal-clear recall is getting a little foggy around the edges.

Funny thing is, it's the memory of the big stuff that's fading. I can remember trivial things as if I saw

black 'n white

by Arthur Black

them this morning.

I may no longer recall my Thunder Bay phone number, the face of my North Ward alderman, of the name of that funny department store downtown, but I remember Ronnie and The Curser perfectly.

Those two guys probably knew the geography of the city as well as anybody. They knew it because they walked.

And walked and walked and walked.

Summer and winter, blizzard and heat wave, you'd pass them trudging along the side of the road. It might be downtown, it might be in the suburbs - could even be on the highway out of town. God knows where they were going or where they'd been.

The Curser was a short, stocky, swarthy guy who always wore a ski cap, a windbreaker and rubber boots. He marched along at an almost military pace, and if he thought no one was listening he let go with a skein of cusswords that would have brought a blush to the cheeks of a drill sergeant.

And there was Ronnie, a tall, skinny native guy who wore a grubby black overcoat, no hat and a hopeful smile.

Mostly, all Ronnie ever said was "Got a quarter, Jim?" To Ronnie, all white folks looked alike and answered to the name Jim.

I heard a story about him once. One of his regular mooching stops was a shop that sold Indian art work.

Builders oppose government's plans for lot levies

Editor:

The concept of education levies as discussed in the Green Paper handed down by the Provincial Government recently is of serious concern to the Haliburton, Muskoka, and Parry Sound Home Builders' Association. We hope that the following comments will assist you in making a response to the Ontario Government which will indicate your unwillingness to participate in such a scheme to raise funds for education.

The concerns of home builders can be summarized in three categories, namely, affordability, fairness of taxation and equality of education.

AFFORDABILITY

In the most recent housing market it often seems to be apparent that the vast majority of homes built throughout Ontario today are catering to the move-up market, a significant proportion around the province are in the lower price ranges. These new homes include entry level townhouses and condominiums as well as rental apartments. As with any cost associated with building a house, a home builder uses levies as part of his cost base and any increases in those costs is typically passed on to the consumer.

We are concerned that an education levy combined with other levies, both proposed and already in place, will place further strain on the cost structure of new homes and make it more difficult for young families to enter the housing market. In some municipalities lot levies already account for more than fifty per cent of the raw land costs for most multi-family housing developments.

Affordability in housing is a problem that exists in southern Ontario as it does throughout many parts of North America and in many other areas in the world. We feel that the proposed education levies are counter-productive to any efforts being made to solve the problem.

FAIRNESS OF TAXATION

We recognize that the contribution to local education expense budgets by the Provincial Government has made a commitment to the school boards of Ontario to help them get their funding back up to current requirements. It is most unfortunate that the Provincial Government is now looking to local school boards to raise those funds at the local level.

We believe that education levies like most lot levies are really a form of hidden taxes. There is little accountability because only the purchasers of new homes are made to pay the way. In years gone by, funds for such projects as the construction of new schools or water pipelines or major sewer works were raised in the debt markets and the ensuing debenture debt servicing is currently

Councillors feel cartoon in poor taste

Editor,

(Laxton Digby and Longford) Council has instructed me to write to you regarding the cartoon in the February 13 edition of your paper.

Council feels that this cartoon was in very poor taste with regards to volunteer fire departments and payment of stand-by fees. The cartoon makes it appear that firemen will not respond to a fire unless they have previously been paid. This is certainly not the case with our own Fire Department.

Trail signs being tampered with

Editor:

This letter is to an individual(s). As you read this letter you will know if it is for you.

On Saturday, January 28, our family, (husband, ter-in-law) and two friends decided to ride the Haliburton County Snowmobile Trails to Ox Narrows. We are all members of the HCSA and commend the club on their good work. We travelled north from Minden, then north-west about 118. Approximately half-way we came to a gravel pit - no trail signs. After several trips down different trails a fine gentleman pointed the way to Little Hawk Lake (thanks) and followed us seeing that we found the trail past the cottages and up the hill.

Farther on, three of our group became separated (They stopped to visit with other snowmobilers) and had the same problem again - "no signs."

These trails had been signed by an executive member of HCSA the previous Wednesday, January 25.

It is an offence to tamper with highway signs, yet some individual(s) seem to delight in removing, or worse, turning signs in the wrong (opposite) direction. It may be a joke to them, but to us it was no joke arriving home at midnight with a tired and disappointed family.

Thanks to the concerned staff of Moonwinks.

Strange folks about town

On this one day, the proprietor, a little exasperated with the frequency of his visits, said: "No dice, Ronnie. If you want any money you have to work for it."

Ronnie looked around the shop, noticed prints by Benjamin Chee Chee and Norval Morrisseau. "You like drawin's, eh?" he mused. Then he leaned across the counter, picked up a ballpoint, and, shabby sleeve of overcoat trailing over a sheet of blank wrapping paper, executed a gorgeous drawing of a galloping horse. He did it in a single, flowing line. In seconds.

Upside down.

There were other eccentrics who called Thunder Bay home and gave the rest of us something to think about from time to time. There was The Madame - a strange little woman who patrolled the streets in plucked eyebrows, a Cabbage Patch wig and enough face powder to slalom in. There was Christmas Mary, a rotund little ball in a raccoon fur coat and a traditional Finnish cap all covered with sequins. She looked for all the world like Mrs. Claus, waiting for Santa to finish his rounds. One Christmas, Christmas Mary wasn't around any more and it was a little like hearing the news that JFK had been shot.

Once I saw The Curser in trouble. A gang of kids on bikes were taunting him. before I could even blink, an old Finlander who'd been sweeping his porch was chasing those kids down the road with his broom, calling them names even The Curser didn't have in his repertoire. When the kids had scattered the Finlander went back to sweeping his porch. The Curser marched off, arms swinging, mouth cursing.

I remember that about Thunder Bay: it always made room for its eccentrics.

In fact it's the only thing I'll probably never forget about the place.

Vasey surprises all by edging Rockcliffe

Six goals off the stick of Vasey Real Estate's Ivan Ingram helped boost this team to the biggest upset of the season when they edged the Rockcliffe 8-7 in the opening game of men's league hockey action last Monday.

Throughout the regular season, the Rockcliffe was clearly the strongest team in the league, finishing the schedule in first place. Vasey, on the other hand, only won two games all season and wound up all alone in the basement.

However, that's ancient history now. Vasey seems to get stronger with each playoff game. And after last week's win they share first place with Halls Insurance. The Times and the Rockcliffe are tied in second place, each with a win and a tie to their credit. Hartwick and Home are trailing the pack with matching records of one win and two losses.

In addition to Ingram's double-hat-trick, Dennis McKee scored two goals to stomp the Rockcliffe. With two goals each for the losing team were Scott Hamilton, Norman Barry and Barry Boice. Jim Crawford scored one for the Rockcliffe.

HOME 5, HARTWICK 4

Home Hardware earned their first win of the playoffs, chalking up the second upset of the night with a close 5-4 win over Hartwick.

Yvon Gravel led the scoring for Home with two goals. Lawrence Lougheed, Dave Rogers and Bruce Dennison each scored one.

Sid MacKeigan scored twice for Hartwick while Jim Keetch and Andy Campbell added one each.

HALLS 7, TIMES 5

The Halls Insurance club was back in form Monday after accepting defeat from the Rockcliffe a week earlier. With two goals from each of Brian Shaw and Dave Hartwick, Halls outpointed The Times 7-5 in the final game of the night.

Kevin Hamilton, Dave Dollo and Brian Noseworthy added one each for the game winners.

Dave Pettes and Irwin Asbel scored two goals each for The Times. Greg Newell added the fifth.

The fourth round of play-off action is slated for tonight at the Minden Arena. At 7 p.m. The Times and Home will clash. At 8:30 p.m. the two leading teams, Halls and Vasey, will face off. And at 10 p.m. Hartwick will take on the Rockcliffe.

February 9 - 1 cm snow, 4.3 pH, from Wisconsin, Michigan and southern Ontario.

February 10 - 5 cm snow, 4.4 pH, from Michigan and southern Ontario.

February 11 - 3 cm snow, 5.0 pH, from Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan.

Environmental damage is usually observed in sensitive areas regularly receiving precipitation with pH less than 4.7. Readings of 4.0 pH or less are considered dangerous. The lower the reading, the more acidic the precipitation.

Minden Bantams win playoff opener over tough Oakwood squad

In playoffs, best of 3, the Minden Bantams won the first game 3 - 2. Oakwood scored the first and second goal of the game in the first period to take a 2 - 0 lead. It wasn't until late in the third period with 6 minutes left that Jaime Dollo scored shorthanded on a nice individual effort. With time running out and our Bantams pressing for a tie, Jaime Dollo passed to Jason Scarlett who in turn passed to Rob Ackersblade and he fed back to Jaime Dollo who tapped it in the open net, to tie the score.

Then with 49 seconds left in the game and overtime looming, Kevin Buchanan feathered a pass to Rob Ackersblade who backhanded a shot into the top corner over a sprawling Oakwood goaltender, to ice the win.

It was a superior comeback by our Bantams, to take a one game series lead.

The consensus in hockey circles is that the Minden Bantams have a legitimate chance of bringing home an All-Ontario championship and would appreciate additional fan support.

Let's get excited about our team!

If necessary, the next game is Tuesday, February 28th at 7:30 p.m. at the Minden Arena.

There was plenty of action in front of the Oakwood net when the Minden Bantams took on these challengers in the first of a best-of-three playoff series last Thursday in Minden. Oakwood's goalie had plenty of early success at keeping the puck out of the net, but Minden managed to score three times in the late going to win the game 3-2. Tonight the Bantams travel to Oakwood for the second game of the series. If necessary, a third game will be played back in Minden on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

Novices wind up in top spot

With one week's rest and only two games left in the schedule, Minden Novice "C" hosted Manvers on February 18. One win or a tie was required out of these two games to ensure Minden first place going into playoffs.

Scoring opened with Gavin Gartshore taking a pass from Wayne Kernohan at the 4:49 mark of the first period and finding the spot to open the door for Minden. Things remained quiet until late in the second when ever-ready Steve Ecclestone put the puck past Manvers' goalie for the second and final goal of the game. Minden emerged 2 - 0 winners.

Sunday, February 19 game was severely different when we were off to Haliburton for 3 p.m. ice time.

The first period was pretty well back and forth with both teams holding each other at bay. Not until midway through the second did Haliburton finally break through Minden's defences to get on the board after several unsuccessful attempts on goalie Shane Flood.

The third period saw Haliburton claim two more goals, but with 2:20 left in the game, Chris Little passed a loose puck to Cameron Neville and with no trouble he managed to erase any chance of a shutout for Haliburton. The final score was 3 - 1 for Haliburton.

It has been a long season and the boys have seen a lot more ice time this year than last. My only comment week came from coach Little's mouth, "Thursday night at practice, be prepared to move and skate - and I don't mean for five minutes!"

The playoff schedule will be posted when available.

Dorset Acid Rain Report

The following report on precipitation events was recorded at the Ministry of Environment acid rain testing station in Dorset and compiled by Environment Canada.

This report covers the period of February 12 to 18.

February 12 - 1 cm snow, 4.9 pH, from Ontario and Lake Superior.

February 13 - 9 cm snow, 4.2 pH, from Ohio and southern Ontario.

February 18 - 2 cm snow, 4.5 pH, from Wisconsin, Michigan and southern Ontario.

Environmental damage is usually observed in sensitive areas regularly receiving precipitation with pH less than 4.7. Readings of 4.0 pH or less are considered dangerous. The lower the reading, the more acidic the precipitation.

More reliance on helicopters, water bombers

Municipalities have always been responsible for forest fire suppression, said Russell. This will not change under the new system. However, when fires grow out of control, like the one at Head Lake last summer, ministry crews will come in and take over if necessary.

With fewer men to call on, the ministry will have to be more prepared to react, said Russell. The delivery system will be changed over, with more reliance on helicopters and water bombers to prevent the fires from growing to the point where a great deal of manpower is needed.

"We have to get there ahead of time," he said. This will be accomplished through "helitac," which Russell describes as a rapid deployment of men and equipment by helicopter.

While this concept is new to Ontario, the three-man crews are common in some U.S. states and in Alberta and British Columbia, said Russell. The number of crews in the province will actually be increased to 207 from the previous 170 five-man teams. All 207 crews will be available to respond to fires anywhere in the province if necessary.

Although this will mean a reduction in manpower at the Haliburton fire centre, it could make the centre more important as a central station. Russell said more pumping units and other equipment will be available in Haliburton because of its central location.

Bantams are four for four

Minden's Bantam hockey team has come up with four impressive wins in the last four of their playoff games.

On Feb. 11, they travelled to Sunderland and won 6-2. Despite some early problems they played a super game. Rob Ackerblade scored three times and assisted on two goals to lead the team. Hunter Obee, Jason Scarlett and Philip Boyle scored the other goals. Jaime Dollo and Mike Muli each had two assists. Other assists went to Kevin Buchanan and Jason Scarlett.

On Tuesday, Feb. 14, Woodville came to town and this was a very close game, with Minding taking the upper hand in the 6-4 decision. Rob Ackerblade opened the scoring when the team was short two men. Ackerblade had two goals and three assists. Also scoring was Jaime Dollo, Jason Scarlett, Oliver Greer and Philip Boyle.

On Friday, Feb. 17, they went to Manvers and came away with a 3-2 win. Jaime Dollo led the way with two goals and Jay Hughes scored the other. Aaron Hie had a great game in net and saved the win for Minden.

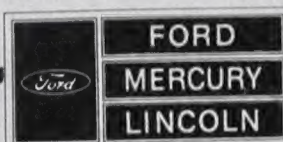

On Saturday, Feb. 18, Manvers came to Minden and again it was a very close 4-3 win for Minden. Jaime Dollo again scored two goals. Jason Scarlett had one, as did Darren Sawyer. Assists went to Rob Ackerblade (2), Kevin Buchanan and Hunter Obee. Aaron Hie had another strong game in net.

The bantams are in first place at the end of the round robin. They are waiting to find out who they will play in the All-Ontario quarter finals.

The Bantams have played exciting hockey all season and hope to see strong fan support as the playoffs progress.

Light snowfall creates good conditions for deer

Deer in the Minden District are having a good winter so far according to Fish and Wildlife supervisor Stan Flemming. "Lack of snow and warm temperatures have made life a little easier for district deer population," says Flemming.

Ministry of Natural Resources crews have been improving the trail network in the Hindon deer yard this winter but so far there has been no need to carry out any supplementary feeding.

According to Flemming there are some important factors to consider before starting the winter feeding programs.

"Deer normally go into the winter months with high fat levels from feeding on grasses and mast crops during the summer and fall. As the days shorten, their metabolism (energy output) slows down and they virtually go into a state of walking hibernation during January and February," says Flemming. Toward the end of February and into March, as the days get longer, their metabolism speeds up resulting in increased energy use. This is a critical time for does and fawns. According to Flemming there are disadvantages to starting a feeding program sooner than necessary. Early feeding will override the deer's natural tendency to slow down and will result in early depletion of fat reserves. This makes the late winter period even more critical. It can also result in overbrowsing and severe depletion of natural food supplies early in the winter.

The ministry uses a winter severity index based on a combination of snow depths, temperature and crust conditions to determine when the supplementary feeding program should be started. "Supplementary feeding is exactly as the term indicates and should never be considered a total diet," Flemming advises. A preferred approach to winter deer management is the protection and enhancement of natural yarding areas. This involves the protection of conifer cover and the creation of available browse in close proximity to cover areas.

Flemming indicated that the deer management work carried out in the district also includes the creation of trails to assist deer movement when snow depth exceeds 50 cm (20 inches) and the seeding of log landing within and adjacent to winter yarding areas for the use of deer in the early spring.

"To date the winter severity index is well below the critical level however, we are prepared to start supplementary feeding if the need arises," says Flemming.

For further information on the supplementary feeding program and the deer management program in the Minden District please contact the local ministry Office on Highway 35 at Minden, (705) 286-1521.

Atoms cought off guard, but soon recover to earn win

The Minden Atoms were on the road again on Friday night heading for Beaverton to play the first of a best-of-three series.

Minden was taken off guard as Beaverton scored two goals in the first few seconds of the first period, but they were not going to be caught napping again.

Minden's first goal was scored on a breakaway by Andrew Crego. Then Minden tied the score when Scott Dedman scored from a great set up by Darryl Dettman and David Ra-back. The game continued to be fast and exciting with Minden stepping up the pressure. Beaverton tried hard but were unable to break through the defence.

Todd Redgrave gave Minden a third goal when the puck was set up by Andrew Crego and goalie Terry King.

The first period gave us five goals scored in the first five minutes of play, showing that both teams were fighting for a win.

The second period began on the same note when fans were delighted when Scott Bailey, who had come so close in previous games, scored his first goal ever, thanks to a nice set up by Todd Redgrave and Andrew Crego.

The game began to slow

a little toward the end of the second period, but both teams kept a tight defence.

Minden came out on the attack in the third period which led to a goal by Scott Dedman assisted by Darryl Dettman and David Ra-back. Beaverton was unable to score, but it was not for the lack of trying. This kept Minden on their toes to the very end. Minden was really into the game toward the end of the third period, and to round the score off Todd Redgrave scored Minden's sixth goal assisted by Andrew Crego and Ben-Crego.

The final score was Minden 6, Beaverton 2.

On Saturday afternoon Beaverton travelled to Minden for the second game in the playoff set. This time, Beaverton was ready for the fight which led to a 1-1 draw.

Spectators were entertained by some great hockey, each and every player was doing his share and gave his best.

Minden's goal was scored by Scott Dedman assisted by Darryl Dettman. Minden will be travelling to Beaverton on Friday hoping for a win. Good luck team!

Guidance for all Canadians

The things that make Canadians different all year round, also make them different at tax time.

That's why Revenue Canada offers a range of services to help all Canadians file their return.

Follow the Guide

When you get your tax return this year, you'll probably notice some changes. To help you fill it out, your 1988 Tax Guide gives you step-by-step instructions as well as tax tips and examples. It highlights, in yellow, the changes to this year's return. There's also a series of special guides, like the Child Care Expense Guide and the Employment Expense Guide. Check your general Tax Guide for the list of special guides available. If you need one, contact your District Taxation Office.

Changes to look for

In your Tax Guide, you'll find a detailed description of how the new tax credits work. For example, personal exemptions have been replaced by "personal amounts" that reduce your federal tax payable (how much you owe). Make sure you follow Step 4 in your Tax Guide so you don't miss out on anything.

Include your Social Insurance Number

Be sure to fill in your Social Insurance Number, along with other current information, such as your correct address. This will ensure that your return is processed quickly and accurately. There's also a new federal requirement to provide your Social Insurance Number to your financial institution for inclusion on your tax information slips. If you don't have a Social Insurance Number, apply for one at your local Canada Employment Centre.

When you file your return, you should also be sure to include all your T-4's and any other information slips required. You should receive them by mid-March. If you don't, your Tax Guide tells you what to do. A correctly completed return with all required documents will mean you get what you're entitled to as quickly as possible.

You may not have to fill out the whole form

If you have no income and are only claiming a Child Tax Credit or the Federal Sales Tax Credit, you don't have to complete the entire form in order to receive your refund. Check the Tax Guide for instructions on how these credits affect you.

There's help if you need it

When you get your new tax return, open it to make sure you have the forms and guides you need. If you didn't receive a return, they're available at your Post Office or District Tax Office. There are also community volunteer programs that offer special help to those who need it, and seasonal tax assistance centres set up in shopping centres and other locations across Canada. Or you can call the toll free number for your area, listed in the back of your Tax Guide.

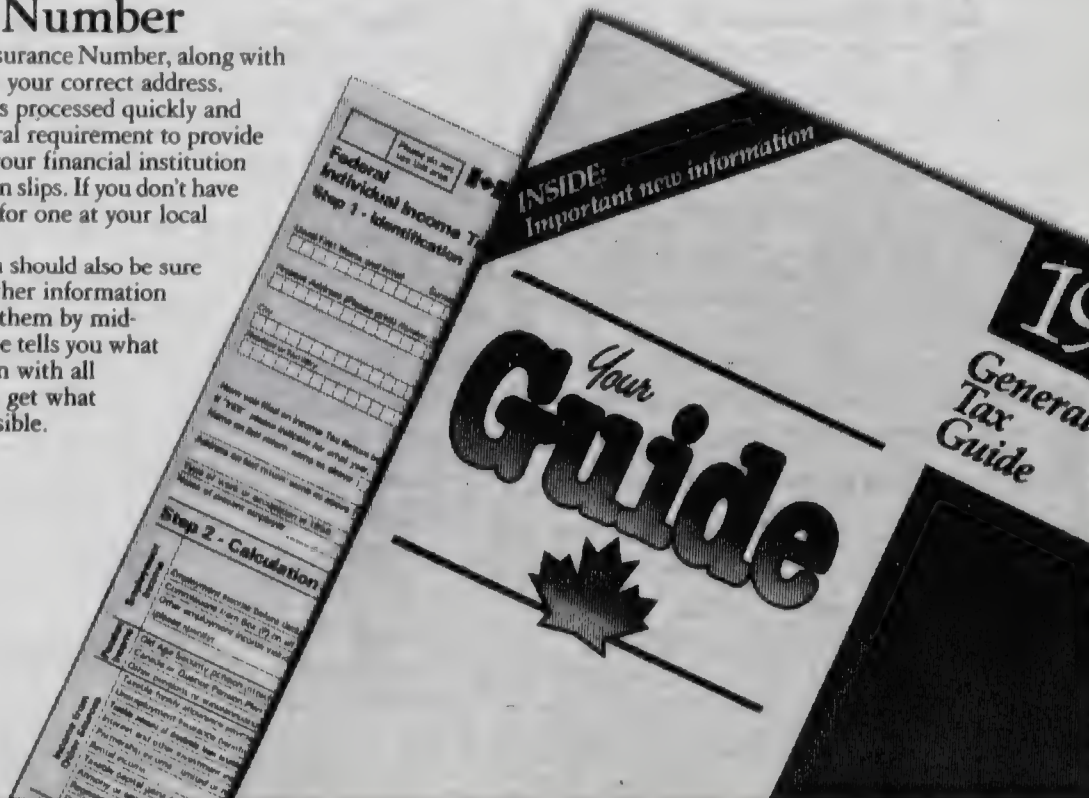

With the general Tax Guide, the special guides and these other services, there's guidance for all Canadians, from Revenue Canada.

Redmen celebrate 'Great' year

It wasn't a "fine" season for the HHSS Junior Redmen football team, it was a "great season, maybe even an outstanding season."

The team that won the Kawartha and central Ontario Double A championships this season received praise, a little advice and a good deal of encouragement from Richard Newborough, football coach of the Laurier Golden Hawks, during last Monday's special awards banquet. He told the players that if they act like champions on and off the field, they are bound to earn more championship results. A champion isn't a person who walks around with his nose in the air, he said. A champion is someone who always gives 100 per cent, is always on time and never "knocks the system."

Players, coaches and parents gathered at the Haliburton Legion for this occasion, when the championship trophies were officially presented to the captains.

Brian Waller and Darren Danylyshen were named the most valuable players on the HHSS Redmen Junior Football team during a special awards night at the Haliburton Legion last week. Waller and Danylyshen were also called on to accept the Central Ontario Double A Championship Trophy on behalf of the team. Shawn Perrin, Hunter Obee and Craig Bain had the honour of accepting the Kawartha Championship Trophy for the team.

Scott Jones and Randy Bull received the awards for being the most outstanding linemen on the Junior Redmen team.

Old Man Winter makes a come-back with the almost-forgotten snow falls

by Marion Strebig
Federation of Ontario
Naturalists

We knew it couldn't go on like this - that sooner or later winter would let us have it again. Snow and savage winds and sharply dropping temperatures have reminded us that winter is still unequivocally with us. What was open water only days ago is now sealed fast again.

This morning was cold and overcast, with intermittent snow squalls. Nevertheless, as I walked to the house along the edge of the ravine, I heard the measured note spring call of the chickadee, so different from its rollicking and familiar chick-a-dee-dee-dee.

There are even signs of returning migrants. The last few days a flock of crows has been raising a ruckus along the edge of the ravine. To be sure crows do stay the winter around here, but up until last week there had been only the occasional solitary crow in the area. By March, crows will be beginning to nest, so this lot, carrying on as though they have just returned from a fun-filled southern vacation, have just jumped the gun a bit.

Another early arrival who often does not go very far south is the Horned Lark, the only member of the lark family native to the Americas. Last weekend, from the snow-covered clods of earth in a field, I heard their tinkling call which always sounds to me like melting ice dripping in the February sun. Once you have heard it you will pick it out whenever you are walking in open country. But it is a small sound, like a treble recorder, easily covered by the noise of passing traffic or a flock of squabbling starlings.

Starlings, because they are noisy, aggressive and successful, are not everyone's favourite birds, but it is hard to resist their almost drunken enthusiasm

LANDS TO BE REZONED FROM THE RURAL (RU) ZONE TO THE RESORT COMMERCIAL (RCB) ZONE.

Expert offers tips that could save many lives

"Travel over frozen waterways in winter often involves risk" says Craig Macdonald, Recreation Specialist at the Ministry of Natural Resources. Leslie M. Frost Centre, who has had some extensive experience in winter travel across Canada. Here is some information on ice formation and a few tips that should be followed to increase safety.

First waterway ice is found in two forms, black and white. Black ice (also known as blue ice) is made directly from the freezing of lake water. It is usually the first type of ice to form when the waterway freezes over at the beginning of winter. Lacking the number of air bubbles found in white ice, black ice is stronger and more translucent. White ice is formed in a separate process. Often a heavy snowfall will depress the ice surface so that water seeps up through cracks in the ice to permeate the lower layers of snow to form slush. Eventually this moisture will wick its way upward, so that the overlying insulating blanket of snow is of insufficient depth to prevent the slush layer from freezing from the top down and forming a layer of white ice. These "slushing" events can occur several times during the winter to create additional layers of white ice. The white ice formed is opaque due to thousands of trapped air bubbles. In laboratory tests small cubes of white ice have approximately 90 percent the strength of black ice, however imperfections evident in larger block samples often reduce its true load bearing strength on waterways to around 50 percent.

Since it only takes five centimetres of black ice to support a single person on foot, the safety of ice can be determined by pounding a stout two metre pole on the ice ahead of one's self. If the pole happens to break through, there is not enough ice strength to support the weight of a person. One should turn around and retreat to safer ice. Frequent testing of ice must be undertaken where flowing water impedes the formation of strong ice covers because currents can significantly erode the thickness of ice covers within hours. These danger areas include lake narrows, rapids, beaver dams, river inflows and outlets, etc.

To assess the bearing strength of thicker ice sheets for crossing on snowmobiles or on other heavier equipment, it will be necessary to cut a hole in the ice to measure its thickness. Always remember that charts for determining ice bearing strengths are given in centimetres of black ice, so that it will be necessary to reduce by fifty percent the thickness measurements of layers of white ice found in the ice cover.

When travelling over thin ice on foot, if the ice starts cracking when you make a step, quickly spread your legs for improved weight distribution and retreat! This may be enough to prevent you from falling through. If you are unlucky and break through the ice, you must maintain control of your senses despite the painful shock of suddenly being immersed in freezing cold water.

Unless there is a shore less than ten metres away where you can touch bottom, ALWAYS turn 180 degrees in the hole and try to make your escape in the direction from which you came. Remember, this ice supported your weight once and is likely to do so again. Attempting an escape in any other direction would be taking an unnecessary chance on untested ice, which could be even weaker.

Once having regained safe ice, if the snow is dry, roll in it and brush it off several times to soak up excess moisture before your clothing turns icy. Unless a heated shelter is less than five minutes away always head as quickly as possible to the closest shore and build a fire. Haste is necessary for you must use your matches or lighter before your fingers stiffen to the point where fire lighting becomes impossible. The chances of survival without a drying and warming fire are greatly diminished.

Department adopts new trade theme

by Bill Scott, M.P.

The Department of National Revenue, Customs and Excise, has adopted the theme "Some Things Change and Some Things Don't" as the central focus of a public information program to inform Canadian travellers of the customs and tariff aspects of the Free Trade Agreement.

This information is being provided to travellers on three fronts. An advertisement for travellers appeared in Canadian newspapers over the New Year holiday weekend, outlining important basic information on the changes to customs and tariff procedures. Canadian and U.S. Customs authorities at all land border crossings are jointly distributing to Canadian travellers a basic information pamphlet entitled, "Free Trade and the Traveller". This brochure explains those areas that have changed as well as those that have remained the same. This publication is available free of charge at all regional and local Customs offices as well as in airport departure lounges.

Basically, the reporting procedures at the border remain unchanged as do current amounts of duty and tax free goods which returning Canadians may import. All imports must be declared, regardless of whether or not they are eligible for lower rates of duty under the Free Trade Agreement.

All inquiries may be addressed to Canada Customs Regional Office in Toronto at 1-800-387-0715 or to the Customs Free Trade toll-free number, 1-800-267-6626.

Jack Philips of Little Britain caught a 12 pound Lake Trout on Boshkung Lake on February 1. Jack and his sons had won an ice fishing package at the Clansman Motel, which included dinners at Phil's Roadhouse. Scenic Highway 35 Association sponsored four Winter Extravaganza packages of five nights accommodation and meals featuring different winter activities at local resorts. Jack's fish was caught in 80 feet of water using a minnow as bait. His son gaffed the lunker just as the fish managed to break free of the hook.

Junior curlers place sixth in Fenelon spiel

Minden's junior curling team had a fairly successful day on February 18 when they competed in a bonspiel in Fenelon Falls and finished in sixth place out of 16 teams.

The team skipped by David Maybee, was edged in the final end of their opening game. However, they came on strong in the second game to win all but one end.

This is the first junior rink to represent the Minden Curling Club in several years and the Fenelon Falls 'spiel was their first competition.

Curling with Maybee on this team are Rebecca Wilson, Craig Bunn and Jason Adam. Coach Mike Maybee says they all curled well to earn the sixth place finish in this bonspiel and are eager to enter more competitions.

Legal advice sought regarding land gift

Anson, Hindon and Minden Townships Council will be consulting with its lawyer before proceeding with any action involving the gift of a piece of property that is adjacent to the Beaverbrook Golf Course.

Former Townships Councilor Verne Graham, representing George Alsop who made the gift, provided the new council with some of the history of the property and details of the agreement between Alsop and the municipality.

David Stevens, owner of the golf course, also attended the meeting to raise his objection to the proposal to use this property as a cemetery. Several area residents and golfers were in the audience to lend support to Stevens' objection.

The agreement with the township dictates that this property can only be used for cemetery purposes. However, there is no cleared roadway to the property and Stevens is afraid the townships will use a road allowance that runs through the golf course.

Graham told council that there are alternatives to using the road allowance to gain access to the gift property. However, this did not relieve Stevens' concern.

Calling the situation a "political football", Reeve Ray Moore suggested that the townships forget about using this property. However, Deputy Reeve Bern Berry argued that they should talk to their lawyer before doing anything.

Interest shown in industrial land

An unidentified developer has shown an interest in a piece of industrial property in Minden and townships council will be putting down a $1,000 deposit on the land to make sure it is available for sale.

Minden Reeve Ray Moore brought the news to council last Thursday asking for their endorsement to put a deposit down to hold the property. However, Deputy Reeve Bern Berry immediately objected, asking that council go into a private session to discuss this.

"The prudent way of dealing with this is to grab councillors in private and then bring it to the council table," Berry said.

When council came out of its private session, a resolution was approved to pay the deposit.

Boogy to the beat

If the students of Mrs. Davis' class at Archie Stouffer Elementary School have their way, everyone in Minden will be making the extra little effort to separate their recyclable goods from their garbage and tossing it in the big blue bin that has been set at the Scotch Line Land-fill Site. Jennifer Oitment made up this advertisement to encourage everyone to "Boogy to the beat of recycling". In addition to this effort, the students will be coming up with other ways to make everyone aware that the opportunity to recycle is now available.

Starlings very adaptable

for the lengthening days. Starlings seek out the highest perch near the house and put on a concert performance of gurgles, chortles, trills, wheezes and whistles. They are great imitators of simple bird-calls, and often the first killdeer of spring may be only your neighbourhood Starling, high on daylight.

The starling is remarkably adaptable. The breeding records of the Atlas of the Breeding Birds of Ontario show starlings breeding throughout Ontario even on the tundra where buildings provide nesting sites. In spite of its less endearing habits like its tendency to increase beyond all reasonable bounds, its fondness for gathering in large and noisy flocks, and its delight in driving other birds from nesting cavities just for the pleasure of it, the Starling's exuberant response to the return of spring touches some primitive part of us which would like to respond just as noisily to the returning sun.

The birds aren't the only animals affected by the longer days. There is new life in our house. A pair of gray squirrels have found a hole in the fascia board of the old house, and they have moved into the space between two supporting walls. Their comings and goings and family squabbles are quite audible through the library wall. Lately there have been frequent trips with new nest material. Anytime now we'll hear the mewling of a newborn litter. By mid-March we will have no peace. The babies will be fighting and racing around in there like a bunch of demented 2-year-olds.

No matter how frigid the weather, all the signs point to spring.

Frost Centre combines syrup day with info seminar

On Saturday, March 25, 1989, the Leslie M. Frost Natural Resources Centre will be hosting two important events worth marking on your calendar.

A day of fun and learning is in store at the Frost Centre's annual Maple Syrup Day, with horse drawn hay rides to the sugar bush, plus tours and activities for the whole family.

And on the same day, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. the Frost Centre's planning team of resource management specialists will be on hand for the timber management plan Public Information Centre.

The Information Centre is a one-day opportunity for all interested parties to view and discuss alternatives and preliminary proposals for the production of the draft Timber Management Plan. The information presented will consist of the following:

- the potential forestry areas/operations for the period 1990-2010;

- the alternative locations for primary road corridors which are projected for the 20-year term of the plan and the preferred or most acceptable alternative;

- the alternative locations for primary and secondary roads for the next five years and the preferred or most acceptable alternative; - the identified areas of concern (i.e., deer wintering yards, recreational areas and trails, fish habitat areas, etc.); and

- the alternative ways that operations may be carried out in these areas and the preferred or most acceptable way of operating.

Public input invited

Plans give an overview of the forest and set forth objectives for managing the timber resource. They tell how much timber should be harvested, where, when and how so the forest can be renewed and maintained in healthy condition.

The Frost Centre's planning team is preparing a new plan, for the Frost Centre Crown Management Unit. Although the plan covers a 20-year period, from 1990 to 2010, it will be renewed every five years to allow revisions and adjustments that may become necessary. At each five-year review, the plan will be extended another five years so it will always have a 20 year planning horizon.

Operations such as tree marking, timber sales, planting, tending and forest protection are underway at the Frost Centre, as on other Crown Management units throughout Ontario. All these activities are directed by approved Timber Management Plans.

Everyone can play a part in managing the Frost Centre forests, so it is important that the planning team hears from you. The Public Information Centre is the second of three opportunities you have to influence the planning team in developing a timber management plan that reflects the needs of all users of the Frost Centre forests.

In the Frost Centre area, the varied interests of a wide range of forest users come together. School groups, hunters, tourists, cottagers, loggers, anglers, skiers, snowmobilers, all use the forest for different reasons. The Frost Centre's challenge in managing the 24,000 hectares of forest land and water is to provide opportunities for everyone.

Over 11,000 people visit the Leslie M. Frost Natural Resources Centre each year. Located just south of Dorset, near Algonquin Park, the Centre is operated by the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources to show visitors how our natural resources are managed.

For more information on timber management, please call Frank Bes, Forestry Specialist, at the Leslie M. Frost Natural Resources Centre (705) 766-2451.

Lot levies met with resistance

being paid through the general tax base. New home buyers and renters who contribute to education levies in the future will pay the way for a share of capital costs for schools through this new tax and will also pay to cover the debenture debt through their property taxes. The education levy as well as other lot levies are, to a large extent, user fees, since it is the residents of new areas that are being asked to provide the funds for services required because of that growth. School boards and municipal governments should be wary, however, that residents moving into new homes on which the education levy has been charged are not going to be particularly satisfied to have their children go to school in portable classrooms.

Retired couples who make up a fairly significant proportion of the move-up market will react very negatively to this new form of taxation because they have paid over the years for education facilities and are now being asked to pay in a lump sum again when they have no more children at school. The universality of education and education taxation has been accepted over the years, but this new form of payments may well meet with some very significant resistance.

EQUALITY OF EDUCATION

The home builders of your area are concerned about the way in which funds for education are to be allocated both throughout the city and outlying areas. If the Province truly intends to abdicate its responsibility to education funding and if the burden is truly going to be placed on municipalities to raise funds for education, we are concerned that disparities may come to exist in areas of slow or no growth as compared with areas of high growth.

An aging area, for instance, may well be attractive to young families because the homes may be at entry level pricing. The new areas, however, will be inhabited by higher income home purchasers who will exert a great deal of political pressure to demand first rate facilities given the fact that they have now paid for those facilities through the education levy imposed when they purchased their home.

We are also concerned that areas experiencing fairly high growth will have a significant income from education levies. While other slow-growth areas, may have pressing needs for education spending but no income because their growth at this point in time is fairly nominal. We are afraid that the Provincial Government has not thought this through very carefully and are concerned that the quality of education from town to town or city to township in this Province may vary.

The Haliburton, Muskoka and Parry Sound Home Builders' Association is made up approximately 25 members, both companies and individuals, representing the majority of home builders and their trades and suppliers in the local area. The Association is a member of both the Ontario Home Builders' Association and the Canadian Home Builders' Association. It is the belief of the Haliburton, Muskoka and Parry Sound Home Builders' Association that the Province of Ontario should reconsider its position with respect to education levies and should look inward to its financial priorities before taking such a giant step backward.

We appreciate the opportunity to make this submission, and we are prepared to meet with interested groups to discuss this matter further at their convenience.

Recycling: make a contribution

Editor:

At the newly-established recycling depots at the Scotch Line Dump north of Minden and the Dysart dump, the big blue bins are just waiting for your contributions. Find a corner of the basement and start collecting all your cast-off newspapers, cans and jars. It'll get to be habit after a while and it takes much less time than you might think.

Why recycle? Because the flow of consumer goods that started 40 years ago as a trickle has reached flood proportions, and because each and every consumer product in that ever-broadening stream places a demand on the environment at the beginning and again at the end, of its life. Take a look around you and note that everything you own owes its existence to a natural resource. The car you drive and the gas you put in it; the coffee you drink and the container in which you bought it; the newspaper you're reading right now and the artificial light you're using to read by are all provided for you by a renewable or non-renewable natural resource. The disposable, consumer society that has evolved in North America burdens the environment at the production end by demanding limitless resources of raw materials and energy from which to produce. Then, again, it stresses the environment at the disposal end by expecting the earth to swallow up its garbage. Recycling addresses both of these areas. With the property for landfill sites becoming increasingly costly to buy and more and more difficult to locate (who wants to live beside one?), anything we can do to limit our need for them is a positive step. Any material that can be recycled - scrap metal, newsprint, glass, tin, aluminum cans - does not need to be claiming space in a landfill site. Instead it can be reintroduced into the production lines, thus lessening the demand upon the environment for raw materials.

Waste is a luxury that our small planet can't afford. By not recycling, we are wasting materials that have as much value as the previous raw materials of our natural world. Let's all get into the recycling habit and claim one small victory for environmental health.

Joy Johnson,
Carnarvon.

Study French in Quebec

The Ontario Ministry of Colleges and Universities have designed a program to provide Ontario french speaking residents with the opportunity to pursue post-secondary studies in the french language in Quebec. While participating in the program students will study and live in a Quebec cultural milieu. To be eligible, an applicant must be willing to enter into an agreement to return and work in an area of Ontario designated for french language services.

The intent of the program is to increase the number of french speaking professionals available to provide health and social services in french in Ontario.

As the deadline for application is very close, anyone interested in the program would be advised to contact the Public Enquiries Unit of the Ministry of Colleges and Universities at 416-965-6407. To pick up an application contact your nearest Information
